INTERNATIONAL MOTHER LANGUAGE DAY CELEBRATION

Date:21.02.2025

Venue: Anugraha Hall

Subject: International Mother Language Day Celebrations

On the occasion of International Mother Language Day, NSS organized a special event to celebrate and reflect on the profound significance of our mother languages. The event aimed to honour linguistic diversity, promote cultural heritage, and emphasize the vital role that native languages play in shaping identities and fostering meaningful communication.

The event was honoured by the presence of Dr D. Venkataraman, the NSS Program Coordinator. The occasion was further graced by the dedicated volunteers of NSS, whose tireless efforts and commitment to service continue to inspire and uplift the community. Their collective contribution ensured the event was a resounding success.

The event commenced on a serene and uplifting note with a heartfelt prayer song, gracefully performed by Rasagnya Akkaraju from the department of Cyber Security. Her soulful rendition set a tranquil ambiance, fostering a sense of unity and introspection among all attendees.

Dr. D. Venkatraman delivered an inspiring and thought-provoking speech on the profound significance of mother languages. He eloquently highlighted their crucial role in preserving cultural heritage, fostering identity, and strengthening the bonds of tradition. His words served as a powerful reminder of the need to cherish and promote linguistic diversity for future generations.

Following this, Viritha from 2nd Year CSE delivered an insightful address on the significance of International Mother Language Day, highlighting its historical roots and role in promoting linguistic diversity and cultural preservation. The speech emphasized the struggles and sacrifices made to safeguard native languages.

The following speakers eloquently discussed the importance of unconditional love, illustrating its profound significance through captivating stories and relatable examples in various languages. Their heartfelt narratives resonated deeply with the audience, highlighting love's selfless, enduring, and transformative power across cultures.

This was followed by an inspiring video by Sudha Murthy. In a heartfelt reflection, she delves into the profound impact of literature and education on her life, sharing how books have shaped her worldview, instilled deep values of service and duty, and ignited a spirit of idealism. She emphasizes the importance of nurturing relationships and fostering community engagement, illustrating how storytelling serves as a powerful tool for empathy and human connection. Through this introspection, she highlights the transformative power of knowledge and its enduring role in guiding her aspirations, strengthening her resolve, and inspiring her unwavering commitment to making a difference in the world.

The program gracefully concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks, expressing deep gratitude to all participants, speakers, and organizers. The closing remarks acknowledged the insightful discussions, the inspiration drawn from the session, and the collective commitment to learning, service, and community engagement.
