Due to an unprecedented shortage of water supply to the campus in the last couple of days, we are forced to postpone the return date of all first-year students into the campus.

All First years residing in Kerala, Tamil Nadu, South Karnataka, South Telangana, South Andhra Pradesh are required to stay back home and continue attending classes online.

Students who have already started their journey/not in a position to cancel their journey can come to the campus and attend classes online from the hostel.

The return date will be updated after reviewing the water availability in the campus.

The mid-term exams scheduled to commence from 9th May 2024 stand cancelled and revised schedule will be communicated shortly.

The inconvenience caused is sincerely regretted.
