EXPERIENCES FROM THE FIELD

Susmin John K
- CB.SW.P2MSW21044

The field work experience was tremendous as it gave insight into the real life situations where I could apply theories into practice. It gave me exposure to different fields in the working scenario as well as an opportunity to understand the problems faced by the vulnerable in society. Furthermore it had an added advantage of enhancing professional and personal skill.

Sneha M
- CB.SW.P2MSW21035

Through the fieldwork, I learnt how to approach people and understand the problem faced by them. Certain classroom techniques were also used to handle critical situations.

Megha Narayanan - CB.SW.P2MSW21023

Field work in my native place was a different experience for me as I was able to understand the different lives of people in the community. I was able to interact with them and made a very good bond with the community members. Moreover I was able to make a club for the community members which was one of the objectives given to me by the organisation.

Anjana Vikraman - CB.SW.P2MSW21050

It was a wonderful experience working in a psychiatric setting. I learnt a lot about psychiatric disorders and did case studies of patients. I also conducted group activities. I was able to build a good rapport and healthy relationship with patients. I coordinate a lot of programs conducted by the organisation.

Nayana I - CB.SW.P2MSW21024

The organisation named Shreyas located at Sulthan Bathery in Wayanad, Kerala is an organisation that stands for sustainable development and justice. On working with the organisation, I could get the opportunity of working with the marginalised communities which is the tribal community. I could visit the remote colonies located at the heart of dense forests, understand their problems and could suggest alternatives which I could give them in the form of awareness programmes, group activities and individual counselling that helped them solve their problems on their own. I truly believe that the experience I gained will definitely give momentum to all my endeavours of helping those in need, in the days that follows.

Deepti M - CB.SW.P2MSW21012

Fieldwork at PSSP has given me an opportunity to understand the communities in Palakkad, which is my hometown, at a deeper level. I got a better understanding about different issues and the activities done and actions taken by the organisation. It definitely was a great exposure for me.

Sakthi Sree K

- CB.SW.P2MSW21030

It was a great experience working with the community where underprivileged people dwell. The organisation gave us an opportunity to interact with the community and made us understand about the community in depth. It was a great experience making children learn life skills and spoken English as well. The appropriate guidance given by the faculty members as well as the the organisation was inspiring in many ways. We were directly involved with the community volunteers and came to know about the problems faced by the members in the community. Overall, I'm thankful to my faculty members as well as the organisation for providing me with this opportunity.

Malathi M P

- CB.SW.P2MSW21021

The fieldwork proved to be a great exposure to reality. I was able to witness the community's problems and interact with its members. It gave a wonderful understanding of what social work is and what are all the challenges we face while we are in the field. I had an opportunity to interact with the children from the resettlement area and was able to see the real problems faced by them in the areas of nutrition, hygiene, mental health, education etc. I am more than grateful to the social work department staff and SIAAP for giving us this opportunity.

Anushree M Krishnan

Abhirami Shaj
- CB.SW.P2MSW21001

Fieldwork is the main key to social work. From this first fieldwork experience I was able to learn the structure, the setting of the organisation that I was placed in. I helped in making action plans and lesson plans to work with adolescent girls and children. What I liked the most about the organisation is their method of using art, music and theatre as a medium to bring changes to the lives of children.

Celebrating Pride ! What is Pride ? : The Importance of The Pride Month.

Love is love, even if it takes on different forms !

It's that time of the year again, when the world celebrates pride !

What is pride ? Pride is best defined as self-respect as expressed by members of a group, typically one that has been socially marginalised.

The next question, why is it important ? It is important because it vanishes shame and secrecy enforced upon the LGBTQIA+ community by the mainstream society at large.

Pride Month is an entire month dedicated to uplifting the LGBTQ community, ensuring their voices and stories are heard and acknowledged. It is usually celebrated in June though elsewhere in the world, Pride is celebrated during different times of the year. It is observed in several countries to honour the struggles and victories of the LGBTQ+ communities. Pride events include pride parades and marches, rallies, dance parties and festivals. It is important to note that before Pride became a celebration, it was a protest.

The purpose of the commemorative month is to recognize the impact that lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender individuals have had on history locally, nationally, and internationally.

This Pride Month and hereafter - do be an ally to the LGBTQ plus community. So, if you're wondering how you can help, here's how: read up, unlearn, relearn - this cannot be emphasised enough - understand and march with them !

We'd like to add a poem here, our way of giving to the LGBTQ community this year.

Colours of Love

(By Meenakshi Jayaprakash)

I like to think that love has colours
 Love can be red, like the teased cliché
 Of the red roses I could give you.
 Or orange, like the fallen maple leaves
 Breathtaking every fall.
 Or yellow, like that lemonade with its
 Forever welcomed sweetness.
 Or the green of the four leaved clover,
 Lucky to find, blessed to have.
 Maybe blue like the sky
 Which you can never tire of.
 The indigo of the ink I spill
 Onto paper, the verses for you.
 The purple, draped by royalty
 Forever worthy of respect.

WELL KNOWN SOCIAL WORKER

Kriti Bharti

Kriti Bharti is a child marriage activist in India who has stood up against death threats to save victims of child marriages. Bharti made headlines as the first annuller of child marriage in India. She is the founder and director of Saarthi Trust, a non-profit organization that primarily rescues and ensures the recovery and welfare of child marriage victims. Bharti's team has annulled more than 41 child marriages and prevented more than 1,400 from occurring.

Kriti Bharti describes child marriage as a 'dark room' where children cannot see into their futures. Her organisation, the Saarthi Trust, is working to help children see the light. Kriti realised that annulling a marriage was not necessarily the end of the problem. Although some girls are welcomed back by their families, others are banished from their families or communities following annulment. To tackle this, Kriti set up a rehabilitation programme to enable the former child brides to flourish. Kriti's rehabilitation programme is designed to ensure that the girls are equipped to lead successful, independent lives and to speak out against child marriage so that the cycle is broken for good. Many of the girls that have been rehabilitated have gone on to finish their education and pursue careers in medicine and engineering. Some have even continued working with Kriti to help rehabilitate other former child brides.

By annulling child marriage and teaching former child brides and their families about other options, Kriti is changing social norms for the better. When community members and families see how much happier and prosperous girls are without child marriage they recognise their value to the community. Kriti calls this 'the chain of child marriage'. She knows she can't achieve this change alone so she is sharing her practices and ideas with civil society organisations and others throughout India. She has even been asked to deliver training to police and administration officers in Rajasthan and hopes that they will also now work to prevent and annul child marriages and help to rehabilitate child brides.

Kriti's unique activism is creating lasting change in many girl's lives in Rajasthan. However, she has faced criticism, resistance and even death threats, showing just how deeply entrenched the roots of child marriage are in Rajasthan. Despite these challenges, Kriti is continuing to reach as many girls as she can.

Schemes and Act

Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985

Drug abuse is a huge socio-economic problem in India and the government is taking several measures to reduce drug demand and promote rehabilitation of drug addicts into society. There were no laws regulating narcotics in India till 1985 when the NDPS Act was passed. The NDPS Act was enacted to fulfil India's treaty obligations under the Single Convention on Narcotic Drugs, Convention on Psychotropic Substances, and the United Nations Convention Against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances.

The NDPS Act prohibits a person from the production/manufacturing/cultivation, possession, sale, purchasing, transport, storage, and/or consumption of any narcotic drug or psychotropic substance. According to the Act, narcotic drugs include coca leaf, cannabis (hemp), opium, and poppy straw; and psychotropic substances include any natural or synthetic material or any salt or preparation protected by the Psychotropic Substances Convention of 1971. A psychotropic drug includes any natural or synthetic material or any salt or preparation protected by the Psychotropic Substances Convention of 1971.

Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act (India)

The offences under the Act attract jail terms ranging from one year to 20 years and fine depending on the crime. Under the Act, property acquired by a person from drug-related offences, who has been convicted under the Act can be seized, frozen and forfeited by the government. All the offences under the NDPS Act are non-bailable. Also, no relief can be sought by the drug convicts by termination, remission, and commutation of sentences passed.

How was your life at Amrita?

My life in Amrita has been a wonderful journey. It was peaceful and tranquil throughout the two years there. From the institution to the teachers, college mates, Wardens has been an adventure towards what we are today and what we have become.

What are the key skills that you learned at Amrita that helped your career?

Capacity Building, confidence, and presentation skills.

How is the current scope of Social Work?

It is vast and has lots of opportunities.

What message would you like to give for the current MSW students?

Whatever you do, start with what you love and are interested in. Hard work and dedication is a must.

What are your key responsibilities in the present job?

I am in charge of the overall smooth functioning of WHL. I also need to ensure prompt and meaningful response towards every call received at the Helpline and to facilitate redressal of issues related to non responsiveness of state agencies/institutions in collaboration with the Director of WCD.

Who is/are your inspiration(s)?

My father (L) Shri Shining Lamare

Any other thing you would like to share?

What I have achieved today is only because of Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham. It has taught me to be a confident person and to be a multi-tasker. The professors have moulded me and made me who I am today.
