JAL-Shakthi Abhiyan (JAL) is a collaboration towards water conservation in 256 water stressed districts 1952 blocks.

As a part of 'JAL-Shakthi Abhiyan' the NSS Volunteers of six units, along with the Programme Officers and the Block Development Officers of the Ettimadai village Block, organized a tree plantation programme from the main gate of Amrita Vishwa Vidyapeetham to the Ettimadai main Road, Periya Coundampalayam.

Around 100 students from all units participated in the event which started at 10 a.m. and ended at 3 p.m. All the Programme Officers and their team of students took a group photograph along with the Block officers before venturing into two different groups – one for tree plantation and awareness talk and the other for swach bharat abhiyan where they cleaned the area. They had a small tea break for 10 minutes at 11:30 and continued with great zeal towards the public cause.

The students enthusiastically participated in the tree plantation programme

The Block Development Officers and Amrita NSS Volunteers working together

Students took great care in planting, watering and even named the sapling and plan to “meet” their sapling regularly

NSS Programme Officers also worked hand-in-hand with the student volunteers

A pic taken before the Jal Shakti awareness talk

The venture ended with an awareness talk and the students promised that they will regularly visit the saplings they have planted and will see its growth in the future years also. The NSS Volunteers, the block development officers and the villagers were happy with the effort and its ultimate contribution to the community.
