On the second day, the students visited the village of Puthupathy. Puthupathy is a tribal village close to the Western ghats reserved forests of Coimbatore. It is near Walayar and comes under the jurisdiction of Madukkarai. It is a village plagued by the frequent disturbances of elephants due to its close proximity to the forest. On reaching the village, students first cleaned the village hall. It was swept and dusted. After this, the NSS camp was inaugurated in Puthupathy by Mr. Ganesan, esteemed Headmaster of the Government school of Puthupathy.

The program started with a prayer song to invoke the blessings of the almighty and the dignitaries were welcomed by Mr. Prabu, our faculty coordinator. The students of the government school of Puthupathy attended the function.

The volunteers were split into groups and performed various tasks respectively. A group of volunteers went to the preschool to clean and paint the blackboards. The other groups spread out across the village and started collecting the waste materials. The collected waste was segregated into degradable and non-degradable waste. ### DAY-3

The village Community hall of Puthupathy is an important place in the village. It is used for many important functions and meetings. So it is necessary for it to be in its optimal state. As such our volunteers started scraping off old poster markings and paint off the wall.

A talk on ill effects of tobacco was organized by eminent speakers from the Government Health Department. During the interactive session with the Students, they spoke about health hazards of tobacco consumption. They also appealed the students to persuade their family members to let go of the addictive habit. It was evident from the response of the students that the talk was very convincing and students clearly understood that tobacco in any form is very fatal.

After the talk a yoga session was arranged. The main aim was to raise awareness and ignite a passion for fitness among the students. A few minutes of yoga during the day can be a great way to get rid of the stress that accumulates in both body and mind. Not just this but it also helps the body to stay active throughout the day. Keeping this in mind yoga postures, Pranayama and Meditation techniques were taught to the children. A free dental camp was organised for everyone. The volunteers coordinated all the villagers to attend the camp.
